

FRIDTJOF NANSENS INSTITUTT
FRIDTJOF NANSEN INSTITUTE

Biodiversity, hunger and climate changes: CGIAR and the role of agricultural research

A reflection meeting with Salvatore Ceccarelli

Fridtjof Nansen Institute, Polhøgda, Fridtjof Nansens vei 17, Lysaker
Tuesday 21 August, The Dining Room, 10.00–13.00

PROGRAM

Coffee from 09:30

- 10:00 Welcome (Senior Research Fellow Regine Andersen, FNI)
- 10:10 Introduction: The role of CGIAR in promoting food justice and protecting the environment (Ruth Haug, Professor, Department of International Environment and Development Studies (Noragric), Norwegian University of Life Sciences)
- 10:30 Biodiversity, hunger and climate changes: the role of agricultural research (Salvatore Ceccarelli, formerly barley breeder at ICARDA, currently ICARDA consultant based at Montpellier, France)
- 11:15-13:00 Open floor: Exchange and reflections

A light lunch will be served around 12:00

How to get to FNI: www.fni.no/contact.html